

Invitation by Princeton Club of Austria - An Evening with Prof. Jan-Werner Müller

Dear fellow Harvard alumni/ae,

We hope you had a very nice summer! We are happy to forward to you an invitation by the Princeton Club of Austria. Please find the full invitation to the following event under this link.

The Princeton Club of Austria is planning a very interesting evening on Tuesday, October 18th -- just in time for election season -- and would like to invite you to join us.

Prof. Jan-Werner Müller of the Princeton University Department of Politics is currently in Vienna working at the Institute for Human Sciences (Institut für die Wissenschaften vom Menschen), and he's agreed to join us for an evening of information and discussion. Prof. Müller is an authority on contemporary politics who has written extensively about populism and political trends in Europe and the USA. He is widely published; in fact, a piece by him was just featured in the Frankfurter Allgemeine Zeitung last month (link: <http://www.faz.net/aktuell/feuilleton/debatten/viktor-orbans-ideen-zum-autoritaeren-staat-14438737.html>).

I think you'll all agree that, with polarizing presidential elections coming up in both the USA and Austria, this is a highly topical subject, and Prof. Müller is a real expert on it. We hope that it will also be an enjoyable evening of lively discussion and good food and drink.

To keep the evening intimate, space is going to be limited, so please let us know if you plan to come! Reservations will be first come, first served.

Location: Heuriger Werner Welsch, Probusgasse 12, 1190 (Grinzing – easily reached by public transport)
Time: 7:00 p.m.

Rules: everybody pays for their own drinks and food; feel free to bring along a family member or guest.

To join us, please RSVP at the following address by October 11:

We're looking forward to seeing many of you there!
