

Dear fellow Alumni, dear Friends of the Harvard Club of Austria,

We are very delighted to invite you to our next event: a discussion on Monday, 5 June from 7 pm on the topic of "Tackling climate change - from words to action", which we are organizing together with our friends of the Oxbridge Society.

The event will take place at the Climate Lab, Spittelauer Lände 45, 1090 Wien.

Gebhard Ottacher (MPA Harvard Kennedy School), who leads the Climate Lab, will be hosting this evening.

We are very pleased that Oxford alumna Henriette Spyra, Director General Innovation & Technology at the "Austrian Federal Ministry for Climate Action, Environment, Energy, Mobility, Innovation & Technology" could be won as an expert for the event. Harvard alumnae Michaela Krömer, a well-known lawyer on climate issues, and Kavita Surana, an investor in climate-tech x deep-tech x science start-ups, will also be part of the discussion. As representative of industry, Fabian Kesicki, Head of Corporate Development Wien Energie (UCL alumnus) will participate in the discussion.

After the event we will continue networking over drinks.

If you are interested in attending this event, we would like you to please pre-register for the event by email to harvard.club.of.austria@gmail.com. If you are taking someone with you, please let us know.

We are looking forward to a great event!

Sincerely,

The Harvard Club of Austria Board
