

Brown-Columbia-Cornell-Dartmouth-Harvard-Pennsylvania-Princeton-Yale

Ivy League Alumni of Austria

Vienna, September 28, 2012

Dear fellow alumni/ae,

At the Heurigen in June some of our members justly criticized, that we had not done anything on the Ivy level for a long time.

So here is our next event:

Most of us know the main sights of Vienna fairly well, but at least some of us might be interested in a walk around parts of the city that are less well known. Tom Lachs (Princeton) is certainly not a professional tour guide, but he loves the city and thinks he could show a group a few things, that are not on the normal sight list. So we have decided to let him take us for a walk through parts of the inner city that he finds especially interesting.

We will meet for this walk on

Sunday, October 21, at 10.30 am in front of the church Am Hof.

Please (especially the ladies) wear comfortable shoes with which you can navigate cobble stones. Children are, of course, welcome but a longer walk could be too much for the younger ones (maybe a stroller would help).

After our walk it has been suggested we have lunch at the Brezl Gwölb, Ledererhof 9.

To make organizing this a little easier, could you please register by October 12 at the latest at Kurt Retter's office (Angelika Killmann T +43 1 515 10 2240, F +43 1 515 10 66 2240, angelika.killmann@wolftheiss.com), saying if you will join us for lunch. Thank you.

We are looking forward to many of you joining us. Don't miss this event

Sincerely,

Ivy League Alumni of Austria

Brown-Columbia-Cornell-Dartmouth-Harvard-Pennsylvania-Princeton-Yale